

*"5 Ways to Show
You Love Her :
A Man's Guide"*

Drop by and say hello. We love visitors and making new friends.

You can visit us online at www.nakedberry.com.au.

Make yourself a cup of tea and a biscuit, relax, and have a browse around. And do remember to make yourself at home.

Show her you love her

The naked berry team went out and asked a number of girls, "how can he show you that he loves you?"

We've put this short list together -- 5 ways to show you love her. We reckon if you can master these 5 ways, your relationship will get even better in 2007 -- in fact, we guarantee it.

And just in case you might find any of these a little bitty difficult, we've added some commentary from one of the guys on our team -- just so you can get a balanced perspective.

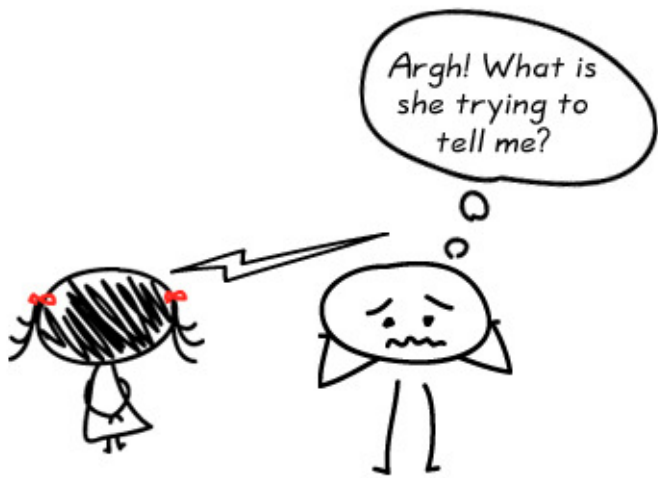

*1. listen to her attentively
whenever she shares.*

Reminds me of what Ronan Keating would say to us blokes... "You say it best when you say nothing at all."

(And by the way, wasn't that a great song?

2. know her deepest needs without her having to tell you.

come on...what does she think I am...
a mind reader?

3. don't leave any dirty laundry around and clean up the house.

no worries -- looks like we need to hire a housekeeper!

4. spend time with her
doing something she likes but you don't like and pretending that you like it.

yeah -- put up with her shopping.

*5. send her a surprise
"Naked Berry" bouquet
and spend time to enjoy it together.*

Now these things are cool (if we do say so ourselves!). She will find these berry bouquets gorgeous to look at, gorgeous to eat and if you play your cards right, she'll think you're gorgeous for sending her one! And not only are these yummy and healthy, but did you know the additional benefits those berries will do for her?

- They are a great natural alternative to Botox.
- They can help burn off fat.
- They can help if she is hoping for a little joey.
- They increase her vitality.
- They can help reduce the risk of cancer.

Now you try getting all that from a bunch of flowers!

How I improved in showing her I love her

(tick off the boxes as you master them!)

- I have improved on my listening skills when she shares.
- I have learnt to read her mind.
- I have learnt to keep the house clean and tidy.
- I have learnt to enjoy doing the things she likes to do.
- I have sent her a Naked Berry bouquet (or two, or three...)

I _____ promise to have a proper go at improving my skills in showing her that I love her. If I break this promise, I will sing "Do ya think I'm sexy?" whilst doing the macarena naked on the steps of the Sydney Opera House. I will do this on the first Sunday afternoon of March at 2pm.
